Representatives of 33 Nations Begin Task of Attempting to Restore the World to Normal.

(By The Associated Press.)
GENOA, April 10.—The Genoa economic conference was formally opened today by Premier Facta, of Italy.

(By The Associated Press.)
GENOA, April 10.—Thirty-three nations of four continents are in this ancient city today, to begin efforts to restore the world to normal conditions at a great economic congress generally regarded as the most important and significant since the Versailles peace conference. Delegates expect the conclusions to lead to the economic reconstruction of Europe, and the rehabilitation of Russia, particularly. The formal opening is set for three o'clock this afternoon in the historic palace of St. George, built in the year 1260.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA DOMINANT

GENOA, April 9.—By The Associated Press.—The recognition of Russia is a dominant question at the Genoa conference and will probably be the first subject taken under consideration. All discussions will begin and end with soviet Russia, whose 150,000,000 inhabitants and vast territory surface overshadow the smaller states which make up the mass of representation at Genoa.

The supreme council's Cannes resolution of January 6 from which the Genoa conference grew, announced that steps must be taken toward the economic reconstruction of central and "eastern" Europe in order to restore international commerce and develop the resources of "all" countries, which clearly includes Russia.

The agenda, which later developed from the resolutions, while superficially dealing with financial and commercial questions seems impossible of discussion without consideration of the basic political problems. Article one of the agenda makes reference to "examination of the best methods for the execution of the principles contained in the resolution passed at the Cannes meeting by the supreme council on January 6."

The Italian delegation, to whom the direction of the conference has been assigned, is expected to lead.

Exile Caught Near City With Liquor

John Dix Banished for 30 Years, Captured Sunday With 38 Gallons Two Miles from Danville.

John Dix, who during last July, was exiled from Danville for a period of 30 years, is again in the city but happens this time to be in jail charged with violating the Mapp act. Police officers last night caught him with 38 gallons of whiskey about two miles from Danville.

Sgt. J. H. Martin late yesterday afternoon received information that Dix was coming towards Danville with a big load of whiskey, and it was this tip that resulted in the arrest of Dix at Crooktown, to road which through Crooktown, to road which Dix was supposed to come in on. They had gone but about two miles when a Ford touring car was seen standing on the side of the road. The officers stopped them and made a little disturbance from the scene and approached the car cautiously. When they got there no one was present.

In the meantime Dix had gone to a nearby house and was seen to be working on the engine of his car which had gone dead. He was returning to the machine and while some distance away saw the forms of persons moving around. He had not the least idea that he was being followed but thought they were thieves trying to steal his liquor. Dix hastened his speed and was soon back to the car. The officers were then on the opposite side and Dix, walking very erect and almost out of breath, walked within a few feet of the officers before he realized who they were. He was placed under arrest and the car was taken to the station. Dix stated to the officers that he did not dream of being at the car but had definitely made up his mind that thieves were trying to steal his cargo of whiskey.

It will be remembered that Dix was tried on a charge of bad fame and character last July and was sentenced to 12 months in jail with the sentence suspended provided he leave Danville for a period of 30 years. He was given a few days to make preparations and straightened up his affairs here, before his time of exile became effective. He had chosen to leave Danville for that period rather than serve the year imposed by the court. Dix has been convicted many times on various charges, mostly violations of the liquor laws. Finally the warrant was served on him and the 12 years imposed on being out.

Temperature Soars On Summer-Like Day

Danville is enjoying today the first real Spring day of the year with temperature soaring to heights unequalled since last fall. Early this afternoon it was uncomfortably hot and the weather had more the aspect of early Summer than Spring. Home gardeners who have been delayed from working their gardens owing to the recent rains and heavy state of the soil will now lose no time in getting to work. This will be a busy week for the farmer, who has been prevented from plowing and who is considerably behind-hand with his work.

Throughout this section the promise of an abundant fruit crop is seen on every hand with every tree profusely blossomed. This is the critical period, and provided no sharp frost comes within the next fortnight, a splendid harvest may be expected.

The weather today was ideal for baseball practice and Manager Tom Abbott had his full squad out at Stonewall Jackson park getting the kinks out of stiff muscles. It is the first opportunity the men have had of showing "the stuff" they have, and the Danville manager was keenly on hand during the workout. The Danville fans will have their first opportunity of seeing the team in action next Saturday, when the first of two games with the Church Hill Athletics, of Richmond, will be played here.

Stolen Car Is Found By Road

A Ford touring car belonging to B. C. Sides, who lives in North Danville, was stolen from the street Saturday afternoon. The machine was found early on Sunday morning abandoned on the Chatham road, near that town. It was found that the car had been driven to the tank at the time Mr. Sides did not believe that the thieves could have gone any great distance with the machine. After searching down the road all of the roads around Danville Sunday evening, the owner of the car and a party of friends started for Chatham. They discovered the machine abandoned on top of the White Oak mountains. The gasoline supply had exhausted but judging from the fact that the carburetor and other parts of the car had been tampered with, it was concluded that the thieves thought that something had gone wrong with the motor, and had tried to fix it.

Holy Week Is Ushered In Today

With special services yesterday in the Episcopal Protestant and the Catholic church memorializing Palm Sunday, the occasion of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, today ushers in Holy Week, the most noteworthy octave on the church calendar, which has observed as a general period for the renewal and consecration of the spiritual life. Thursday is known as Maundy Thursday, followed by Good Friday commemorating the Crucifixion, then comes Easter Eve, on Saturday, and Easter Sunday, memorializing the Day of Resurrection. Special services will be held at Epiphany church, also at the Church of the Sacred Heart during the week which concludes the Lenten period.

It is interesting to note that Easter is the oldest of all the festivals in the Christian calendar. It even antedates the observance of Christmas; for while Easter has been observed from the very foundation of Christianity over eighteen hundred years ago, it was not until the fourth century that the modern era of the natal day of Jesus of Nazareth began to be celebrated. Luke Christmas, Easter has assumed a universality of observance which is a tribute to the instinctive religious beliefs of a large portion of the world's people, and the observance may reasonably be classed as the ranking festival of the year.

Probably one of the most interesting facts in connection with Easter, which, to those of Christian belief, marks the Resurrection of the Savior, is that its origin dates back to the dawn of the Christian era. The first Christians being derived from or intimately connected with the Jewish church, it is a church historian, "naturally continued to observe the Jewish festival, though in the minds of such those had been shadows. The Passover, ennobled by the thought of Christ as the true Paschal Lamb, the first fruits of the dead, continued to be celebrated and became the Christian Easter.

But while Easter as a continuation in Christian form of the Jewish Passover, early differences arose as to the precise day on which the Easter festival should be observed. In the Jewish faith the Passover occurs on a fixed day of the month, whereas in the Christian belief the earliest Christian believed the Easter festival to be fixed day of the week, namely, Sunday, that being the first day of the week, and the day, according to Scripture, upon which Christ rose from the dead.

These differences, due largely to astronomical problems of confusing character, continued until the year 325 when, at the Council of Nicea, it was decreed that everywhere if Christendom Easter should be celebrated on the same day. It was, however, the adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1582 that this decree secured general acceptance; and even to this day in the churches of Russia and Greece, as well as in some of the Oriental churches, where the Gregorian or modern calendar has not been accepted, Easter falls on a different date and sometimes after the day on which the festival is celebrated by the western churches.

As Easter Sunday thus became a fixed festival in the Christian calendar, so, likewise, through Christian tradition, with the exception of Christendom, which the Gregorian calendar, commemorative of the day of the Crucifixion, shall be observed on the Friday immediately preceding the festival of Easter. Increasing importance has been attached by Christians to the observance of the day, and in later years to the observance of the day of the Resurrection is easily traced.

St. Car Company Improves Main St.

A force of workmen started today removing the irregularities on Main street between the street car tracks caused by the settling of the surface between the new oak tracks. The work was done in such a way that the surface of the earth has sunk and caused a series of ripples on the brick surface. These will now be permanently removed. The workmen started today at 8 o'clock and will continue up the street as far as Mount Vernon church. The work which is being done at the expense of the Danville Street Car Company will probably consume 10 days.

Louis T. Puryear Died On Sunday

Another widely known and esteemed citizen of Danville passed to his reward early Sunday morning, when Louis Thomas Puryear, a resident since 1889, died unexpectedly at his home on West Main street, after a decline in health which had continued for several years. Since the middle of January he had been almost an invalid, confined to his home, suffering from high blood pressure and a heart affliction. Recently, however, that had been no symptoms of his ailment, and on Saturday afternoon he was able to be out on the porch of his home and at night he seemed unusually cheerful. At about 4 o'clock on Sunday morning, Mrs. Puryear thought she heard her husband call, and going to his room, she found that he had died peacefully as though in sleep. His breath had apparently just ceased when she made the sorrowful discovery. Dr. L. O. Crumpler was immediately called, only to confirm, however, the worst suspicion that he had been dead some time.

Mr. Puryear was born in Granville county, N. C., near Oxford, N. C., on June 12th, 1858, he therefore being in his sixty-fourth year. He was married June 17th, 1885, to Miss Mary Hampton Miles, who survives him, with a daughter, Mrs. R. M. Cust, of New Orleans, formerly Miss Lucy Puryear, and two sons, Miles Puryear, and Kenneth Puryear both of this city. He is also survived by two sisters Mrs. J. W. Cheek, Raleigh, N. C., and Mrs. Yarbrough, of near Burlington, N. C., also three brothers, L. S. Puryear Durham, N. C., John Puryear, Holiday, West Virginia, and James Puryear, Cincinnati.

Mr. Puryear moved to Danville from Durham in the year 1899 and since that time had been concerned in the merchandise brokerage business representing several well established out of town concerns. The firm prospered under the management of its founder during his active career. Only recently he had taken into partnership his son, Kenneth, who, it is understood, will continue his father's business.

Mr. Puryear was for many years a member of the First Presbyterian church and was a man whose amiable character, continued until the year 325 when, at the Council of Nicea, it was decreed that everywhere if Christendom Easter should be celebrated on the same day. It was, however, the adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1582 that this decree secured general acceptance; and even to this day in the churches of Russia and Greece, as well as in some of the Oriental churches, where the Gregorian or modern calendar has not been accepted, Easter falls on a different date and sometimes after the day on which the festival is celebrated by the western churches.

Boston Carries A Wicked Gun

A huge weapon, which resembles a pistol closely, but which in reality is a British signal flaregun, was found in the pocket of Boston Allen, a negro, yesterday by Police Officers O. T. Cook and John Clark. Allen was fined $30 and costs for carrying a dangerous weapon in violation of the Mapp act. The negro was also sent to the grand jury for the second offense of violating the Mapp act. When arrested with the gun, two fruit jars of whiskey were also found under his coat.

The weapon was exhibited in court this morning and was a curiosity for those who saw it. It has the identical appearance of a pistol with a short barrel which is about two inches in diameter and has three layers of metal. The opening is almost an inch wide. The gun is a Bristol signal gun and was used during the war to fire Very lights. Shells which produce various colors when exploded in the night have certain meanings to the group of men for whom the signal is intended. The negro tried hard to retain possession of the weapon but was unsuccessful. Ordinarily the barrel is about 14 inches in length, but the one which was found was about 12 inches and the weapon presented a dangerous looking aspect this morning.

Danville To Play Richmond Team Here Two Games

The management of the Danville Piedmont league baseball team has scheduled a game with the strong Richmond Hill Athletic club team of Richmond, Va., for next Saturday, April 15th, and Monday, April 17th. This is the team managed by Dr. W. H. Parnell, a well known sports enthusiast of Richmond, and is not an amateur team in the accepted sense of that term. On the contrary, it is made up of men who have played in the major league. This Richmond team, it will be remembered, played here in 1920 and defeated the Piedmonters of that year.

These games will be the first opportunity for Danville fans to see Manager Tommy Abbott and the well balanced team he has gathered together in action against a condition seasoned and well practiced team, and it is expected to draw well.

Meanwhile Owner Hatcher and Manager Abbott are in telegraphic communication with Manager Ray Ryan, of the Richmond Virginia league team with regard to a series of games in Richmond this week between the two aggregations. Manager Abbott was formerly with the Richmond bunch and made a fine impression there and the Capital City fans are anxious to see him and his Danville aggregation.

The local management is still endeavoring to get into touch with Player Trexler and to bring him to the fold. A telegram was addressed to Trexler yesterday was undelivered because he was several miles in the country. Trexler was one of those fine players who have been in the school of instruction. It is believed that Trexler is unwilling to settle that fine, and that this explains his failure to sign up in this city. It is expected that he will be signed in a day or two, but if he holds out, the management have an abundance of outfield material, with another tried and brilliant infielder in prospect.

Third Baseman Duffey is among those who have not yet reported, but he is understood to be on his way here. With Worth, Smith, Marcotte, Duffey, Regan and several others here for infield try-outs and an abundance of outfield material and the most promising prospect for a strong staff of boxmen, the local owner is not worrying. Catcher Thompson and Outfielder Clark of last year's team will not be here. Outfielder McIntosh is here and is practicing, and he will compete for one of the outfield positions. An experienced second-string catcher, secured and is expected to do most of the catching in the practice games in order to direct and drill his men in team-play, as to which he is now instructing.

It was only after a close decision that the judges awarded the cup to the affirmative speakers. Miss Ruth Burton and Miss Daisy Bowman, representing the Philomathean society. The other society was well represented by Miss Alice Hutchinson and Miss May Ellis Hall.

MEMBERSHIP CANVASS AT SCHOOLFIELD Y. M. C. A.

When the membership committee met in the social room of the Y. M. C. A. to make final report on the week's canvass the smile of satisfaction that seemed to have lodged in the expression of every member of the committee indicated that the goal had been reached. When C. J. Parrott of the Riverside Division, announced 295 members for his team the cheering was tumultuous. Captains W. Mann, J. R. Copeland and James Pritchett, of the Schoolfield Division, then reported a total of 240, this together with the 630 members in good standing on roll brought the total membership to 1,865, thereby surpassing by far the largest membership at any time during the past six years.

Dr. S. E. Hughes Shot At While Driving Auto

The reckless use of firearms yesterday morning came within an ace of causing a tragedy when S. E. Hughes, a prominent Danville physician, was shot at on the road between Stokesland and Danville. A report of the shot and Chief of Police Colce and two officers vainly combed the woods for the offenders.

Dr. Hughes was on his way home to Danville at about 11 o'clock, driving a roadster. The fact that he stopped to give two men a lift in his car probably saved him from being killed or dangerously wounded. With three in the roadster, Dr. Hughes, who was driving, was sitting close to the right hand side and in his usual position when a rifle bullet crashed through the piece of glass in the rear of the top and hummed past Dr. Hughes' ear and through the windshield. Dr. Hughes was not hurt, but the other two men but no trace of those responsible for the outrage could be found. A little girl boy was found, however, and he told Schoolfield policemen after thirty minutes of questioning that he and either a white man or a negro, who were standing together, had done the shooting and had run into the woods after firing the shot. The lad said that he could identify the man, if seen.

Dr. Hughes made a complaint at Schoolfield police headquarters as he returned and Chief Colce hurried to the spot. Officer with him combed the woods between the point where the shooting occurred as far as the schoolhouse, but no trace of the offenders was found. A reward of $100 for information culminating in the arrest of those guilty of the shooting, Dr. Hughes knows of no one who would seek to shoot him, and it is believed likely that the man who fired the shot was a hired assassin. According to the Schoolfield officers there is no question but that the bullet was fired from a rifle and not a revolver.

Gaites musical comedy with a Chicago cast, surpassed the splendor of its predecessors with metropolitan personnel and delighted the many who saw it by its sheer beauty of lighting effects, scenery, costumes, tunes and girls. The Gardiner trio, "The Call of the Cossy Little Home," and "Camouflage" were the high points of the extravagant manage of the novel offerings.

With a snappy musical and comedy prologue as an introduction to the central movement of the play, the entire cast was used almost at the beginning.

The titular selection, "Take It From Me," "The Call of the Cossy Little Home," and "The Tanglefoot," and other tuneful pieces which have had such a large sale on the music counters of department stores for the past few months are really the chief attraction of this excellent production. The lines are without the verve which keeps the audience on its feet, but no one is cheated.

The first act, which carried the major part of the music and plot, presented the "Egyptian Dance," "Take It From Me" and "The Call of the Cossy Little Home," all of which received tumultuous applause from the audience. Clever stepping by John E. Hennings as Van, ran through almost every number. Tall, without angles, graceful, without femininity, and possessed of a keen sense of humor, Hennings captivated the audience. "I Like to Linger in the Lingerie," called for several encores.

Comedy work by Charles Meakins, as Rolley, was highly proficient, his part as a foil for homely female manager, Ella Abbott, Alice Hills, being very entertaining.

The Gardiner trio in a pseudo-military marionette dance, was in keeping with their superb work throughout the performance. Miss Alice Gardiner, as Grace Gordon, is a dancer of no small capabilities, has a splendid voice, and is easy to look upon.

The vamp, Marjorie Sweet, was just as senuous, sinuous, and supple as her part required. Her dance with Van Dyke was a wonderful bit of pantomime of Kipling's noted skions on the gentlemen who make their prayers even as you and me.

DOWNWARD'S ROSELAND MAIDS BIG HIT AT THE VICTORY

(Wilmington, N. C. Star.) Last night the patrons of the Victory Theatre were treated to a very agreeable surprise, when Downward's Roseland Maids opened a week's engagement to a capacity house. The company, a whole was far above the best vaudeville attraction that has come here this season.

Downward's Roseland Maids last night was a scream from start to finish. A vein of merriment permeated through the entire performance and it was not until the curtain fell from all suggestions of vulgar horse play.

The company was so evenly balanced and such artists in their various lines that it would be unfair to single out any one for special mention. However, the leading lady's singing, Casey's and Izzy's absurdities, and the jazz band made up of ukulele, banjo, guitar and Casey's sawed off saxophone, kept the house in an uproar of merriment during the whole performance. This company promises a complete change of bill each night and matinee and a week of clean wholesome amusement. At the majestic this week.

Galax Centre of Post Office Row

Dexter Goad's Endorsement of Arthur Childers Brings With It a Protest.

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—A "row" of considerable proportions has been started over the postmaster'ship at Galax, Grayson county, Virginia.

On March 21st President Harding sent to the Senate the nomination of Arthur G. Childers of postmaster at Galax. The nomination was made on the recommendation of State Chairman Joseph Crutcher and Congressman Slem, who accepted the endorsement of Childers made by Dexter Goad, of Hillsville, referee for the 5th district. Goad made the recommendation after ascertaining what he believed to be the wishes of the people of the community.

As soon as the nomination of Childers became public a large number of people at Galax began to protest against it. They brought no complaint or charges against Childers. Most of the protestants appear to want Mayor Robinson appointed postmaster. But this appears impossible because Mayor Robinson was not among the first three eligibles.

Since it became known, apparently, that Mayor Robinson is a candidate for the appointment, and that the appointment of Childers is being criticised, a movement has been started to have Marcus L. Henderson appointed. Henderson was the third eligible for the place.

Mr. Todd was first; Childers was second, and Henderson third. Mayor Robinson was not among the first three and it is said he failed to pass.

As soon as it became known that the appointment of Childers had been sent to the Senate Congressman Slem and State Chairman Crutcher were deluged with telegrams and letters asking that the appointment be held up. It has been held in abeyance for a few days pending the outcome of the protest and to give opportunity to determine if there are any grounds for withdrawing the nomination. Up to this time nothing has been presented warranting Childers' withdrawal.

Dexter Goad, the 5th district referee, is standing pat on his recommendation of Childers and within the past two days has forwarded to Washington two hundred bearing signatures of several hundred persons who endorse the appointment of Childers.

Unless something substantial is submitted in the next few days apparently justifying the "ditching" of Childers, it seems apparent he will be given the appointment over all objections.

Extend Domestic Science Training

The inauguration of systematic domestic science instruction for girls and of manual training for boys in the graded schools of this city, with the initial effort to be made at the Rison Park school. The Parent-Teachers' Association of Danville, of which Mrs. Rucker Penn is president, which Mrs. Edgar Murrie, treasurer, and Mrs. James R. Tate, secretary, has issued a call for a meeting at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening at which an address will be made by Mrs. Ora Hart Avery, of Richmond, State supervisor of these phases of public education in announcing a call for this meeting, Mrs. Penn says:

"Our association has gone on record as favoring domestic science instruction for the girls and manual training for the boys in our graded schools, and it is proposed to start this much-needed work at Rison Park."

"At the meeting on next Tuesday evening a very interesting talk will be made by Mrs. Ora Hart Avery, of Richmond, who is State supervisor of home-economic education, and she will be able to give much valuable information pertaining to this line of work in our schools; also, other talks will be made by local representatives."

"This meeting is of vital importance to all patrons and your attendance is earnestly requested. The evening will be closed with a pleasant social and refreshments."

Instruction in domestic science and economy was inaugurated in the High School several years ago through the efforts of the Wednesday Afternoon club, which donated the equipped and has nurtured and sustained the maintenance of this work. It is now proposed to expand this practical education and training so as to provide it for the older pupils in the grammar grades and thus enlarge its benefit to the community. The provision of ways and means presents a practical problem but one which the Parent-Teachers' association believes it will be able to solve, with the sympathy and co-operation of the thoughtful and public spirited men and women of Danville. "Where there's a will there's a way," and the ladies interested in the extension of these practical forms of training for life have the will and will seek to find the way.

Taft Is Victim Of "Night Life," Stays Up as Late as 10:30 P. M.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator Norris' attack on Chief Justice Taft as an inveterate diner-out and social butterfly whose devotion to society must affect adversely his capacity to administer the law, has started Washington to wondering who his been spoofing the junior senator from Nebraska.

Actually, the chief justice is the most methodical of men who confesses that he needs a good deal of sleep, and they are marveling how he does the things Norris says he does and still manages to be up at 5:15 every morning, that being one of William Howard Taft's habits, conspicuous in a city that only surmises the existence of such an hour from the fact that the milkman must be around about that time.

Norris' attack came in the course of a debate on the judiciary bill, which calls on senior circuit judges to come to Washington to consult with the chief justice of the supreme court.

"When these judges come to Washington," said Senator Norris "at the expense of the taxpayers, what will they do? They will meet with the chief justice. They will be dined every evening. They will be run to death with social activities. They will be killed with social favoritism. They will get down to business. This is especially true of the genial chief justice, who dines out every night. I would like to pause right here to say, Mr. President, that I do not believe there is any man who can stick his legs under the tables of the idle rich every night and be fit the next day to sit in judgment upon those who toil. Honest, though he may be he cannot get away from the atmosphere that will surround him, and 99 times out of a hundred it will affect him and get him in the end."

Flowers, Home And Motorcar Showered Upon Rose Coghlan

NEW YORK, April 9.—Rose Coghlan, 71-year-old comedy star of an earlier generation, has been delightfully converted from her belief that nobody in the world wants a broken old woman, and she no longer prays for death as the only way out.

News that the distinguished actress of the eighties was ill and almost penniless in her rooms, just around the corner from Broadway, today brought an avalanche of friends to her aid. And Rose Coghlan walked for the first time in weeks.

The doorman buzzed and buzzed. Now it would be the postman with another heap of solicitous letters. Now it would be a florist's boy with more roses. Now an old friend calling in person to inquire after the health of Rose Coghlan and offer aid. The telephone, too, poured in a steady stream of sympathetic calls, while all the way across the continent—from a woman who had never even seen Rose Coghlan—came an offer of a big home, an automobile to ride in, pretty clothes to wear for the rest of her life.

"Mother thinks that this is the most wonderful of all," said Mrs.

Richard Pitman, Rose Coghlan's only daughter, when she was advised of the offer sent by Mrs. Tom Dolphin, of Alameda, Cal., through the Associated Press.

"To think that a woman who didn't even know her would extend an invitation like that! It's wonderful!" Mrs. Pitman said her mother could not accept the offer, however. At least, not yet. For she already has accepted an invitation to spend the summer in a big house on Long Island, where all the old friends Rose Coghlan thought had forgotten her can watch over her recovery. She plans to go next week.

One of the letters Miss Coghlan received yesterday contained a $100 check from David Belasco, producer of "Deburau," the last play in which she appeared. Another brought $225 from Carl Hunt, an old friend. Sam H. Harris, president of the Producing Managers' Association, was expected to call a meeting of the managers to discuss plans for an early benefit performance to swell her thin purse.

—Mrs. W. A. Robins and daughter have returned from Richmond and Petersburg.

Sees Father Kill 3 Little Brothers

Horrible Tragedy Shocks Charlotte, N. C.—Demented Man Blows Own Head Off.

CHARLOTTE, April 9.—Ruby Lee Helms, 13-year-old girl, horror stricken and helpless, today saw her father, John Helms, 40, slay three of her little brothers and sisters in succession with a wood axe, and then saw him deliberately blow off the top of his own head with a shotgun, according to the story she, the only witness, told Coroner Frank Hovis.

The quadruple tragedy occurred at the home of Helms, who occupied a tenant house on the farm of Robert Hovis, 11 miles east of Charlotte, about 8:30 this morning. Coroner Hovis said the evidence indicated that Helms had become rather suddenly insane, probably as a result of continued ill health, as he had been suffering from a chronic stomach disease and appeared deeply depressed when talking to a brother a day or two ago about his "hopeless" condition.

According to little Ruby Lee Helms she was walking about in the yard with the nine-months-old baby, when she saw her mother prepare breakfast, when her father approached with an axe and with the handle knocked the baby from her arms, then he went into the house and, with the axe, brained two children in bed, while she looked on through a window, the two being Broncho, aged six and Elecker, aged four. He then grabbed a shotgun, went out into the yard, placed the muzzle against his cheek, the gun standing on the ground, reached down and pressed the trigger with his thumb, the loud blowing of the top of the head.

Mrs. Helms and another child in addition to Ruby Lee escaped without injury, and gave the alarm. Soon neighbors were on the scene, and later Coroner Hovis. The baby girl and two boys were taken to a hospital in Charlotte where it died about two hours later.

It was said that Helms was formerly a cotton mill operative at Charlotte, but recently moved to the farm.

Practically All of Kinston Houses to Be Independent

KINSTON, April 9.—Two local tobacco warehouse firms understood to have offered their houses to the organized growers' directors last week until April 20 to come to terms with the co-operative association's leaders, it was said by a member of one of the firms today. No other information was available. Rumors in tobacco circles were that neither the association nor the growers would jump into a bargain. The two houses have an estimated value of $250,000. They are the newest here, and among the largest in the eastern belt.

With three houses certain to remain independent and two in the doubtful list, local co-operative leaders are reported to have an eye on the single remaining house here, which was not operated last season. It was not possible to learn if overtures had been made to the owners of this.

GINGHAMS FOR ALL PURPOSES

IMITATION is said to be the sincerest form of flattery, the fact that gingham is masquerading in gingham effects tells to what height the once humble gingham has climbed along the road to sartorial prominence. Gingham is used for almost everything under the sun this season. It makes the draperies and upholstery overings in nursery or informal bungalow and cottage bedrooms, it is used to trim some of the smartest frocks and blouses; it is even, this season, made into bathing suits, as Palm Beach has noted. But its latest, and most popular use has been probably always will be for informal frocks.

The exquisitely fine tissue gingham, now offered in such a wealth of designs, colors and shades, puts gingham definitely into the class of the very best of women's summer fabrics, suitable for summer shopping country club and resort wear, even for informal afternoon affairs.

Checks are the most popular design, say the mill heads and supporters. In the fine tissue gingham the most sold are those combining a delicate shade with white, in small square checks from a quarter to half an inch square. Stripes are good, however, used to trim some of the smartest frocks and blouses; it is even, this

Bolshevik Cruelty Described By Crew

Relief Ship Deepwater Brings Back Story of Suffering from Russia— Grain Is Eaten Raw.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—Tales of cruelty toward the Russian children, who begged food from the crew of the relief ship Deepwater, were brought back yesterday when the Deepwater after delivering grain for the relief ship. This is the second trip to return this work.

According to Capt. William M. Hart and members of his crew, who saw occurrences while in Odessa that they fear to discuss as it might cause harm to themselves when they again return to Russia. Americans have no idea of the meaning of Bolshevikism.

Well-dressed men would come to the dock and pick up a handful of grain. They were so hungry they ate the corn until an armed guard would make them throw it on the ground again. Little children the crew said would gather on the dock around the ship to get whatever crumbs the cook would throw to them. Other persons would come to the ship and they could get this food. On many occasions, guards, ordered to disperse the crowd, would draw bayonets on their rifles and if they did not move quickly enough would bring their rifles on their shoulders.

On one occasion, said Captain Hart, a party of high Bolshevik dignitaries visited the ship and looked on while little children were driven away at the point of bayonets. Several members of the crew, it was said, ran to their berths for revolvers on several occasions at the sight they saw and found it hard to keep from using them.

Captain Hart said he did not leave his ship other than to go on the dock. He frankly admitted he was afraid to do so. No shore leave was granted to the crew, but several members took "French" leave to see the sights. Rifle shots were heard constantly, although none of the crew saw anyone shot. One member of the crew who went ashore said he was watching a crowd in a bread line. One man dropped dead of starvation while waiting. At the time three carloads of bodies passed. The cars stopped. The dead man was stripped of clothing and his body thrown on the cars and taken out the city for burial.

The Deepwater is a privately owned American ship. Her crew is 98 per cent American. She left Baltimore January 26, after having to break for miles through 11 inches of ice. She discharged 10,000 tons of grain by hand in nine days. During her stay in port the weather was ideal.

It was estimated that the Russian soldiers who unloaded the ship carried away approximately 75 tons of grain hidden in their clothing, but all was taken away from them by the guards at the dock. Captain Hart said.

150 Warehouses In Three States Sign With Growers

(Special from Tobacco Growers News Bureau.)

RALEIGH, N. C., April 8.—One hundred and fifty warehouse owners in the Carolinas and Virginia have tendered the use of their properties to the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association and have signed contracts to sell or lease their warehouses to the organization of 70,000 tobacco growers which extends throughout the three States.

Forty out of the seventy-five warehouses in South Carolina were signed over to the association today at the meeting of warehousemen and directors of the association held in Florence, S. C., according to M. O. Wilson, secretary of the association, with headquarters at Raleigh. Today's meeting marked a successful close of a series of conferences which began April 5, at South Boston Va., resulting in the sign-up of warehouses in 29 out of the 35 dark and bright markets of that State in the tendering of more than 80 North Carolina warehouses to the organized growers of this State and in the final addition of 40 warehouses through today's meeting. This gives a total of 150 marketing centers for the association which is ample to secure the needed facilities for handling a majority of the tobacco in the three States now under contract with the marketing association. Following this week's successful series of meetings there will be an important conference of the directors and officials of the buyers' growers marketing association who will meet in Raleigh with Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville Ky., leader and organizer of the successful pool of surplus tobacco growers, and James C. Stone, manager of the buyers' growers marketing association. Officials of the Carolina-Virginia association, who are expected at this conference in Raleigh, April 10, are: Oliver J. Sands, of Richmond, General Manager Richard R. Afterson, manager of the buyers' growers marketing association, C. B. Chesnut, assistant manager of the buyers' growers marketing association, and President C. A. Norwood, of Goldsboro.

On one occasion, said Captain Hart, a party of high Bolshevik dignitaries visited the ship and looked on while little children were driven away at the point of bayonets. Several members of the crew, it was said, ran to their berths for revolvers on several occasions at the sight they saw and found it hard to keep from using them.

Russian General z Finds Legal War Most Exciting

NEW YORK, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Gregorie Semenov, Ataman of Cossacks, today seemed to find legal warfare in the opinion of lower Broadway as exciting as the rattle of machine guns on the steppes of Siberia.

Flanked by his American lawyer and a band of Russian supporters, the wild whistler on an elevator to the 22nd floor of the Equitable building and there, for the second day was bombarded with questions at a bank-rupt hearing which followed his arrest in connection with the seizure of the Equitable building.

The general has been painted by his enemies as a man of fierce nature who waded through the blood of his victims, but he seemed just a little abashed up there in a New York skyscraper with lawyers and reporters battering away at him in a language he did not understand.

Indeed he was far from an intimidating figure as he looked inquiringly from one questioner to another, but every now and then he exploded with an expression that interpreters said meant "har" after a question had been put to him in Russian.

It was doubtful whether the general himself gleaned the full significance of the charge hurled at him by Senator Borah in Washington and Colonel Charles H. Morgan in Frankfort, to the effect that he had proved himself in Siberia a "butcher" of Americans and the greatest monster of modern times.

When newspaper men approached him at the close of the hearing with dispatches from Washington stating that Mr. Borah was seeking his deportation they were met by some of his party who explained that the general was tired out after three hours questioning; that he did not speak English, anyway, and that they had better see his attorney, George W. Glaze.

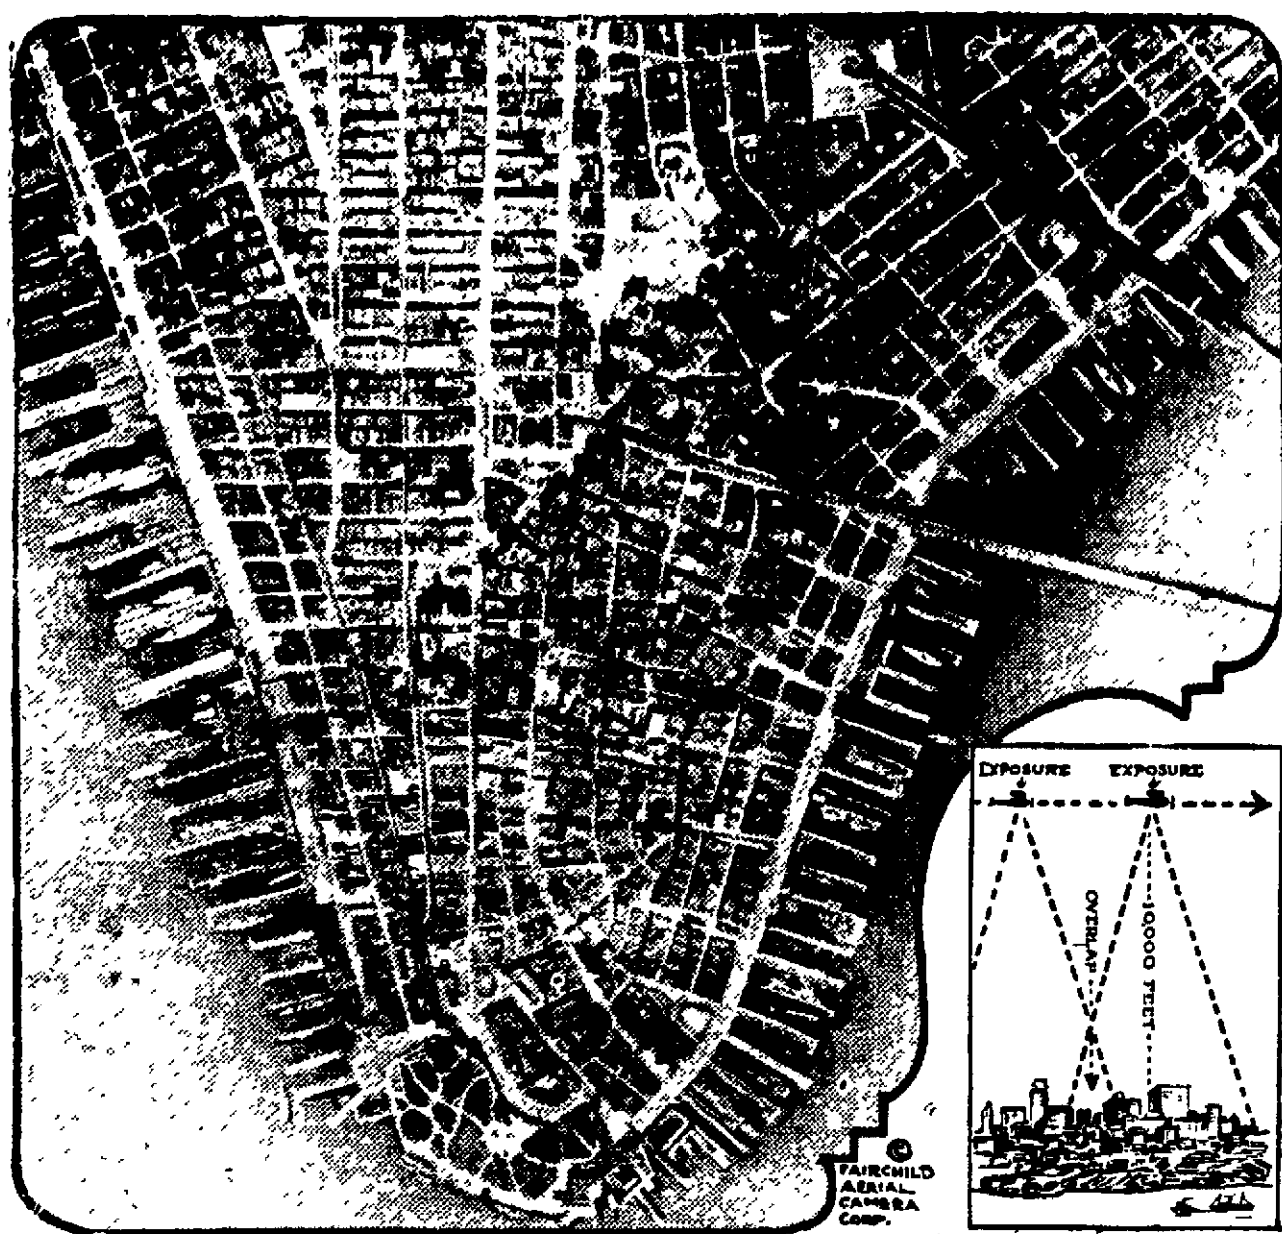

Whereupon there was loosed upon the general by his retinue a volley of Russian bristling with "skys" and "vitches" and the general was thrust into an elevator without the reporters knowing whether he knew what their errand had been.

When Mr. Glaze was shown the Washington dispatch, he exclaimed: "Deportation—that's what the general wants. He does not want to stay in this country, anyway."

When newspaper men attempted to explain that if the general were deported, it might not be to France in the cabin which he has reserved for his wife and himself aboard the Aquitania next Tuesday, Mr. Glaze asserted that the whole matter was ridiculous, anyway.

AIRPLANE CAMERA AIDS CITY PLANNING

THIS SEGMENT OF THE AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHIC MAP OF NEW YORK SHOWS LOWER MANHATTAN FROM BATTERY PARK TO CANAL STREET. YOU CAN SEE BROOKLYN BRIDGE AND MANHATTAN BRIDGE, CITY HALL PARK, TRINITY CHURCHYARD AND OTHER OPEN SPACES, BY THE SHADOWS TALL BUILDINGS, SUCH AS THE WOOLWORTH, SINGER, EQUITABLE AND MUNICIPAL BUILDING, CAN BE PICKED OUT, FERRY SLIPS AND PIERS, WITH SHIPS OF EVERY SIZE ALONGSIDE, CAN BE SEEN. SKETCH (INSET) SHOWS HOW 100 SUCCESSIVE PICTURES WERE MADE EACH OVERLAPPING THE NEXT ONE, SO THAT THEY COULD BE PIECED TOGETHER TO CONSTITUTE ONE "MOSAIC" MAP.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

NEW YORK, April 10.—Aerial photography is the newest aid to city planning.

A vertical photographic map has been made of New York showing office buildings, parks, factories, apartment houses, the waterfront and even the traffic in the streets just as the city would look, in true proportion, if you could look straight down upon every section of it at a glance.

Similar aerial maps are to be made of Newark, Boston, Kansas City and Harrisburg, Pa. Other cities probably will adopt the new city planning method.

The vertical photograph is called a "mosaic" because it is a series of many photographs, each taken at the exact moment the airplane passes directly over each division, and then fitted together. The map of New York was made in a single flight of 60 minutes the airplane, with a camera fitted in the floor, being nearly two miles in the air.

Marvelous Camera

The perfected aerial camera was equipped with an electric timing device and a between-the-lens shutter, which actually saves the brief instant which other camera shutters spend traversing the plate during exposure. This shutter, which prevents distortion in the vertical photograph and creates a new method of aerial photography is the invention of Sherman M. Fairchild, president of the Fairchild Aerial Camera Corporation.

Municipal engineers say it will save many thousands of dollars and years of engineering work in effecting public improvements.

The map of New York, as a finished photograph, is eight feet long and 20 inches wide. It shows 32 square miles of the city.

PROPOSES THAT GOVERNMENT OWN MUSCLE SHOALS

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A government owned and operated corporation to be conducted under the supervision of three directors appointed by the president for development of the last in a series of water power projects, at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was proposed in a congressional resolution made public tonight by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee. It will be introduced in the Senate Monday and referred to the agriculture committee for consideration in connection with hearings beginning then on the four private proposals for Muscle Shoals submitted by Henry Ford, the Alabama Power company, Frederick Engstrom and Charles Parsons.

While no appropriation is asked for the development of the projects congressional authority is requested for the creation of a "federal chemical corporation" and for the secretary of

BEAUTIFUL HANDS THING OF THE PAST

ODESSA, April 8.—Beautiful hands are a thing of the past in Russia. The hands of handsome women are hard and horny, almost as those of field laborers. They have neither hot water nor soap in which to wash them, nor salts and cold creams to prevent chapping.

Constant household labor in their single rooms, making fires for cooking, carrying water, chopping wood and many other primitive duties have hastened the effect of cold and dirt. The hands of men and women of the theater, opera, pianists and instrument players are in the same condition.

Mal-nutrition is another cause. Lack of milk and fats has wrought havoc with tender skins. Many women's cheeks are mottled like the skin of a fish. The same cause has hastened the decay of their teeth.

PITCHER RELEASED

ATLANTA, Ga., April 8.—Pitcher Roberts and Catcher McCellan have been released to the Greenville, Appalachian League team, it was announced today at headquarters of the Atlanta Southern association club.

UNION LEADER PUTS BOYCOTT ON BASEBALL

CHICAGO, April 8.—Emmet T. Flood, Chicago representative of the American Federation of Labor today announced a complete boycott of professional baseball on the part of the unions he represents. The boycott will continue, he said, as long as former Judge K. M. Landis is baseball commissioner.

Mr. Flood charged that Judge Landis, who acted as arbitrator in Chicago building trades dispute and handed down a wage decision, permitted himself to be used as "a tool of big business," in its alleged efforts to disrupt building trade units. "His so-called standard agreement," he said, "makes the union man helpless as the professional ball player who is body and soul at the whim of the club owner. It makes the union man work with the non-union man, under almost any conditions his employer wishes to impose."

Mr. Flood asserted most of the building trades unions had agreed to five members attending a big league game and said other unions were asked to follow the example. "It will be cheaper in the long run," he said, "for the magnates of baseball to pay Landis $50,000 a year for the six years remaining and dismiss him than thus antagonized organized labor. We intend to make the club owner repudiate their commission—give him the gat."

IN FIVE YEARS.

(Washington Herald)

Yesterday was the fifth anniversary of America's declaration of war against Germany.

It has been an eventful half decade in some way or another that proclamation of Woodrow Wilson's placing the United States in the ranks of the allies, has had its effect on the lives of every one of us.

The most noticeable change has been, perhaps, that the provincial era in our history is over. Americans no longer are villagers, to any great extent.

The war made us, for the first time, really acquainted with each other. Precipitation of men from every province into the military melting pot was most instrumental in bringing about this change. Furthermore, we became men of the world. Two millions overseas had a good deal to do with this. And, of course, where there were these mothers, sisters and wives were also, in spirit.

War conditions placed many of us, who remained outside military service, on a plane of luxury such as they had never before imagined. Fortunes came to poor men overnight. It was inevitable that the people should be gladdened for a time, with that culture which comes with money.

The war brought to us the new order. It will require more than a temporary depression such as we now experience to plunge 105,000,000 people back into the old order.

It sometimes seems as if the United States, and one or two of the British dominions, alone came from the war victorious—with something definite gained. These gained a contact universal with the world.

As for the others—France, England, Belgium, Italy—they lost almost as surely as the central powers. The cost of what they secured was so heavy that they cannot bear the burden.

Styles for Men date from Civil War Days

The historical progress of man is easily traced through the hats worn by succeeding generations. From the days of Beau Brummel to the present day reign of the smartly dressed American business man, styles have always denoted different periods of history. The hats of succeeding generations are an unerring index of the historical significance of the days of their vogue.

Modern styles in this country date from the Civil War. Just prior to 1860 the taper crown or "steepie" hat had given way to the bell crown which lasted to about 1885. In the early sixties the soft hat came to the fore and after the close of the war when men's thoughts were once more occupied by the question of fashion, the derby was imported from England and the first straw hats became the vogue.

Harrison's administration was marked by a craze for straw hats in this country. From this period on the style became a national habit until today the first warm days in spring send a mysterious metamorphosis. Within twenty-four hours soft hats and derbies disappear and suddenly every man on the street is wearing a new straw hat.

Perhaps the days of rapid transit, radio communication and airplane express speed has something to do with the modern man's rapid plunge into spring attire. 1922 will be marked by hats which show comfort as well as style. The shaping of Leghorns and Bangkoks along the lines of soft fur hats will make this year's styles carry a distinct historical note of their own.

Genoa Parley Begins Today

been entrusted, explaining that this article is the pivot on which the conference work must turn. Referring especially to relations with Russia and her recognition, a contention was mentioned at Cannes. This plan was stoutly resisted by Russia, which has since been joined in this opposition by Poland, Estonia and Latvia, which met with Russia at the recent Riga conference and signed a protocol pledging themselves to stand for Russian recognition and unite in opposition to a consortium.

This attitude of the Baltic entente against the proposed consortium was based on the belief that the great powers contemplated infringing their sovereignty through financial control and hoped to place them in the position of colonies, much it was argued, as had been done with China.

Article two of the agenda speaks of "the establishment of a European peace on a solid basis." This section, according to the Cannes discussion, aims at "finding a means whereby controversy between nations can be solved without recourse to the barbarous use of arms."

This article naturally will spring about a discussion of land armament, which was impossible at the Washington conference owing to French opposition. As most of the European nations are finding excessive military budgets ruinous (this has great financial importance).

Russia asserts that she is willing to reduce her army if Japan evacuates Siberia and Rumania evacuates Bessarabia and guarantees for the security of its boundaries are given. France contends that she cannot reduce her army because Germany is not complying with the Versailles treaty.

Article three of the agenda refers to "essential conditions for the re-establishment of confidence without affecting existing treaties."

This, according to the Cannes discussion had to do with the inter-allied debts, which were not mentioned because it was feared such mention would prevent American participation. The clause without effecting existing treaties was insisted upon by France in order to prevent revision of the reparations provisions of the Versailles treaty. Article four deals with "financial questions": First, currency; second, central banks; third, public finance in connection with reconstruction; fourth, exchange and fifth, organization of public and private credit.

Article five of the agenda covers "economic and commercial questions": First, facilitations and guarantees for export and import commerce; second, legal guarantees for the resumption of commerce; third, protection of industrial, literary and artistic property; fourth, consular regulations; fifth, admission and status of foreigners in connection with their participation in trade; sixth, technical assistance to be given in the work of reconstruction.

Article six of the agenda deals with "transportation."

With Three Ill, Family Is In a Pathetic State

STANTON, April 9.—The pathetic condition of the family of Mathias Morris, of near Crimora, all ten of whom have been desperately ill for three weeks, has been brought to the attention of the Community Welfare League and appeals are being made for aid. Concerning the situation there the following statement comes from the league headquarters:

"Eight children and the father and mother have been critically ill with pneumonia and poisoning, following influenza. The father died last Wednesday and the oldest son died Friday while the funeral of his father was in progress. A 14-year-old daughter is now critically ill."

"The family is poverty-stricken, the children never having been to school or church."

"The boy died, begging to be saved. They are now sleeping on straw-covered boards."

"There are no supplies except what have been given by neighbors. S. E. Eaver and his sister have been nursing the family, but the mother is unable to cope with the situation alone and the league has sent three nurses and five doctors to the home."

MODERN 'TREASURE SEEKERS' CARRY GUEST FOR $160,000,000 TO COURT

TWO MODERN TREASURE HUNTERS. ACTRESS, RIGHT, GLENN BOLLS.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Two modern day treasure hunters are laying plans here today for a twentieth century quest of vast fortunes.

They hope to gain $160,000,000.

They will not chart an antique sailing vessel and cruise in the South Sea.

They will not comb sailors' retreats for an aged salt possessing yellowed charts inscribed with ephemer symbols.

Instead, in these modern quests, the coral reef will give way to the judge's bench and the sailors' will be alert attorneys with brief cases as their "duffle-bags."

The two quests will be carried out independently—indeed the two treasure hunters may not even know each other.

For one is an attractive young actress while the other is a Chicago mechanic.

But both will stake their all in a gamble to secure wealth.

"Billie" Wedgewood, former Boston society girl and now an actress, is studying law in the wings between acts.

She's given up parties and afternoon suppers to read Blackstone's torts, contracts and other matters legal.

Because she wants to fight in person before a British court for the $50,000,000 fortune of Sir Joshua Wedgewood to which she believes herself heiress.

She can't get the fortune until she proves the legal marriage 127 years ago of the American progenitor of the Wedgewood family.

In those days few records were kept. But Miss Wedgewood hopes to establish the marriage of her ancestor by taking a dozen representatives of American families descended from marriages of Revolutionary days and showing that no documentary evidence of their ancestors' marriages can be produced.

Watch and see me win!" she says.

"I'm going to fight my own fight."

With his life's savings Glenn Bolles, $35-a-week mechanic, has engaged the best legal talent he can find to fight for a fortune that has been eluding his ancestors for almost three centuries.

"Should the bill just reported become law, it would be a blow to the navy and to the prestige of the United States."

"Whatever appropriations of men and money are allowed, the navy will be administered by the department in an earnest and cheerful endeavor to keep it as effective as possible. I feel that I should be recreant to a plain duty, however, if I did not solemnly warn the American people that the proposed reduction negatives the results of the recent conference, is dangerous to the country's security and, in my opinion, to the welfare of the world."

"If this bill becomes a law, it will mean that five battleships of the eighteen provided for in the treaty must be put in ordinary, with caretakers. It will mean that, having gathered the nations together, and having conducted to a successful conclusion negotiations intended to establish the relative defense sea armaments of the different powers, we, from the earnestly-insisted-upon position of equality with any nation in the world, drop to second or third place. I do not believe in making a mockery of the conference. I do not believe in throwing away our seapower."

Automobile Racer to Use Wireless Phone in Race

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—A wireless telephone will be used by one driver in the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 30 to keep in touch with his pit during the long grind, it was announced here today. The car was designed and entered in the race by Louis and Arthur Chevrolet, of this city. Louis Chevrolet designed and built the winning cars in the 1920 and 1921 races.

Pointing out that drivers and mechanics lose track of their standing in the long race after they have gone several laps, the Chevrolet brothers declared the wireless telephone, which enables the auto pilot to keep in constant touch with his pit and know at all times his place and other valuable information.

FROM STAGE TO CELL

LONDON, April 8.—(United Press)—A star comedian at a West End theatre went through his paces at the matinee while two policemen waited to take him to jail for non-payment of income tax. The performance over, the comedian went to his dressing room with the policemen and then went to jail. The policeman arrived at the theatre just as the comedian was going on. They were persuaded to wait until the performance was over.

WINGED THINGS

All winged things
They rapture me;
The journeying bee,
The frail ephemera
And the wide-pinioned gull above the sea

All winged things
They thrill my mind;
The bat, day blind,
The unconfined
And wayward, wilding wanderer,
the wind.

All winged things
They lure me so;
Through them I know,
Come gloom or glow,
How one day the freed soul of me
shall go.

—Clifton Scollard, in the New York Herald.

TWO MEN BURIED UNDER RUINS OF ELKS' HOME FIRE

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 8.—Two men are buried in the ruins of the auditorium and gymnasium of the Elks home, which was partially wrecked by fire tonight. Seventeen injured firemen were taken from the building to the hospital. The men under the wreck are pinned by rafters and efforts are being made to rescue them. It is not known whether they are dead. Both are firemen. Early estimates of property loss was given at $250,000.

MOUNTAIN COLLAPSING RAPIDLY EVERY DAY

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
The geological freak of a great mountain disintegrating so fast that it is disintegrating day by day—a thing that ordinarily takes thousands of years—is occurring in the mountainous regions near Vienna.
The Aussee Sandling, rising over 5,000 feet, is simply collapsing. Its great cones and pinnacles of rock are crashing and tumbling as if undermined by gnomes; the forests that clothed the slopes lie flat or move slowly and steadily downward, piling into the valleys, and the turf carpet moves with them.
Over three and three-quarter miles of territory are involved in the movement, and hundreds of sightseers view the convulsions from opposite slopes. The phenomena has been in progress for nearly a year, with gradually increasing acceleration.
One scientific explanation is the presence of an abnormal quantity of water in the chalky limestone core of the mountain, causing the collapse of great caverns and the slipping of strata.

—Miss Moezel Myers of Hollins College, and two of her class mates, Miss Mabel Satterwhite and Miss Bertha Jovens are expected to arrive in the city the latter part of the week to spend Easter Holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Myers, West Main street

GERMANY HAS LIQUOR PROBLEM

HAMBURG, April 8.—Germany, like America, is engaged in a war with liquor smugglers. High customs duties and a dearth of "hard liquor," instead of prohibition, is the incentive to smuggling here and the rum-runners are able to sell their illicit goods at big profits.

Captains and crews of fishing boats are doing a thriving smuggling business in all ports on the German coast, say customs and marine officials.

Arrests of numerous skippers have not greatly interfered with the trade. Members of an organization known to have smuggled thousands of quarts of whiskey and gin into the country have been apprehended and punished but the manner in which they carried on their enterprise, believed to have been over a secret waterway, was not learned.

The offenders emphatically declined to give the authorities any information, some of the admitting they expected to continue operations as soon as they were released from jail.

The band was discovered when the skipper of one of its boats put into a small place on the Elbe and sold his cargo of whiskey. For two or three days there was an epidemic of drunkenness in the community which caused authorities to investigate and resulted in the sailor's arrest.

Fishing boats engaged in liquor smuggling meet other ships by agreement at sea and take on their illicit cargoes.

Owing to the high customs and the dearth of "hard liquor" in Germany the smugglers are able to dispose of their wares at good profits.

MEMORIAL TO ROBERT PEARY

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(United Press).—A memorial to the late Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, was unveiled at Arlington National Cemetery here today.

President Harding, Secretary of the Navy-Denby and other high officials of the government attended the ceremonies, which were under the direction of the National Geographic Society.

The memorial, which was fashioned from a design of Peary's suggestion, was unveiled by the "snow baby," Mrs. Edward Stafford Peary's daughter. In her youth she was known as the "snow baby" because she was born nearer the North Pole than another white child. Her birthplace was in the far north in the '90's, by which Peary determined the northern coast line of Greenland.

The memorial is a huge oblate spheroid of granite representing the earth. On it is carved a map of the earth with a bronze at the spot representing the North Pole—symbol of the achievement by which Peary's name will ever be remembered.

The symbolic design of the monument was conceived by Rear Admiral Peary during his last illness and suggestions for it were dictated to his wife, who accompanied him on several of his Arctic expeditions. On one side of the base is the Latin motto, "Inveniam Viam Aut Faciam." (I will find the way or make one), which was a favorite quotation of the explorer.

The inscription reads: "Robert Edwin Peary, Discoverer of the North Pole, April 6, 1909, Rear Admiral, U. S. N., civil engineer, explorer, scientist 1856-1920."

Seeks Office Wife Holds

GEORGE W. BECKER AND HIS WIFE

HILLSDALE, Mich., April 10.—Mrs. Dottie M. Becker, Democrat again is opposing her husband, George W. Becker, Republican, in a campaign for the office of township clerk in Somerset township.

Already Mrs. Becker has beaten her husband twice in contests for the same office—once by one vote.

This year she decided not to run again. But the Democrats thought she was the best candidate to put against her husband, who'd announced he'd be the Republican candidate.

So Mrs. Becker consented to run. How does the campaign affect peace within the Becker household?

"Not a bit," say both candidates. "We never talk about it. And which ever of us is elected, the other will help him—or her—as much as possible."

PORTERS PLEAD FOR OLD WAGES

CHICAGO, April 8.—So-called independent railroad labor organizations had their inning today before the United States railroad labor board, fighting any reduction in pay as sought by the majority of the railroads.

The smaller organizations left the major fight to the eleven non-service unions involved and made only brief statements to the board.

The plight of the dining car waiter and cook was pictured by George Scott, of the National Brotherhood of Dining Car Employees of the Railway Men's International Benevolent Industrial Association, a negro organization.

In the longest presentation of the day, Mr. Scott declared that only 50 to 60 per cent of the people who formerly used dining car service, now patronized the traveling restaurants and that as a consequence income from tips had taken a decided slump.

"With a reduction" already in force in tips, Mr. Scott argued that a wage decrease would be unfair. He pointed out that some roads were placing a line on the bottom of menus reading "tips not necessary."

Anthony Chlopek, president of the longshoremen, made a strong plea against a reduction of wages in his organization.
